Celebrating the Life of Lalaine Derexes Colliado January 13th, 1947 – February 23rd, 2026

We celebrate the beautiful life of Lalaine Derexes Colliado, a woman who showed everyone what it means to live with purpose.

Born in Manaoag, Pangasinan, Philippines, Lalaine grew up meeting every challenge with steady resilience. Those early years shaped a spirit that stayed strong and kind throughout her days.

Lalaine worked hard and filled each task with joy. She loved to sing, turning simple moments into bright memories for anyone nearby.

Faith guided her path, and family and friends knew her as a devoted prayer warrior. Her supportive and generous nature lifted others, proving that kindness can be both gentle and powerful.

Family remained her greatest pride. She was a loving mother to Jonathan Colliado and Lorraine Colliado, and a loving grandmother to her grandchildren and great-grandchildren. She was a caring sister to Jose Derexes, Jr.; each one carries forward her warmth and encouragement.

Lalaine's life reminds us that strength and joy can walk hand in hand. As we honor her passing, we choose gratitude for the laughter she shared, the songs she sang, and the purpose she lived every single day.
